YOUNG GIRL MISSING

Found-May Have Been Kidnaped.

Ogden, Friday, June 16.

Miss Cora Hartog, the 15-year-old daughter of J. Den Hartog, 2258 Washington avenue, has been missing from her home since Wednesday morning, and up to late last night no trace of her had to tate last night no trace of her had been found by the police, who have been enlisted in the search for her. Whether the girl has been kidnaped or has cloped is yet a question unanswered. The parents do not believe ethat the girl has been induced to leave Ogden against her will by a man old enough to be her grandfather, who has been quite friendly with the Hartog family, and especially Cora. It is believed he influenced the girl to leave home. The little girl is rather slim of form, has light hair, is pretty and exceptionally bright and attractive. The only evidence which the police have to connect the suspected man with Miss Hartog's disappearance is that a letter written by him to the girl has been found, wherein he advises her how to wond a letter which he wanted her to write to her parents telling them she was going to run away from home, and since her disappearance the police have been unable to locate him. The trains have been carefully watched by the officers, but the couple have not been seen to board a train. Wednesday the suspected man was seen by one of the officers driving a gray horse around the streets, and it is the theory of the police that the couple is the police that the couple man was seen by one of the officers driving a gray horse around the streets, and it is the theory of the police that the couit is the theory of the police ple left Ogden in the buggy

HAS RESIGNED

Grand Duke Alexis No Longer at Head of Russian Army.

Cora Hartog, Aged 15, Cannot Be MANY UGLY RUMORS ABOUT

DEPARTMENT ROTTEN TO THE

St. Petersburg, June 16, 3:20 a. m .-The sensational announcement was made shortly before midnight that Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral, who is an uncle of the emperor, and Admiral Avellan, head of the Russian admiralty department, had resigned. This announcement was followed a few minutes later by an imperial rescript relieving the grand duke of the supreme direction of the navy, which he had held since the days of the emperor's father, Alexander III, when Russia resolved to enter the lists as a first class sea power and to build up a great navy, the remnants of which were destroyed in the battle of the sea were destroyed in the battle of the sea of Japan.

Although from time to time since the war begun there have been rumors that the grand duke, would retire on account of the savage criticisms, not to use harsher terms, directed against the administration of the navy, especially in the construction of ships, the ally in the construction of ships, the announcement of his resignation came like a bolt from the blue sky.

Ugly Stories Afloat.

It was not preceded by any of the rumors which usually give warning of such an act. Consequently it was assumed that some sudden event pre-cipitated it, and ugly stories immedi-ately came to the surface.

ately came to the surface.

Among those sofourning late in the cafes and hotels, the editorial in the Nassa Shish yesterday demanding an accounting of the popular funds subscribed for the rebuilding of the navy and declaring that "great names are no longer guarantees," was instantly recalled. The words of the rescript give no hint of imperial anger and the real explanation probably will not leak out for several days, but the instant disposition was to regard the restant disposition was to regard the retirement of Grand Duke Alexis and Admiral Avellan as a concession to public opinion, following the crowning tragedy of the sea of Japan.

Tales of Corruption.

Condemned by Terrorists.

Grand Duke Alexis himself did not escape personal attacks, and scandal was so busy with his name that he was several times the subject of public demonstrations. The name of the grand duke was high on the list of those condemned by the terrorists, and after "Red Sunday" (Jan. 22 last) it was reported that he had fled abroad, but it developed that he was merely keeping closely within his palace. Recently he has shown himself more frequently than usual in a closed carriage. The Associated Press correspondent saw him Wednesday last driving down the him Wednesday last driving down the Neva Quay in a low one-seated drosky drawn by a fast-trotting Orloff stal-The driver, it was noted, did not wear the imperial livery. MAYOR WEAVER WINS ANOTHER VICTORY

Philadelphia, June 15.-Another blow was dealt at the Republican organiza tion today when the street railroad committee of councils referred back to that body the bills repealing the ordinances granting to the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company franchises from 110 miles of streets without payment to the city. The ordinance granting the franchise was passed over Mayor Weaver's veto and at his instignation the repealers were introduced.

The outcome of the attempt to bestow the franchises is regarded as a victory for the mayor, whose wishes in the matter were opposed by the organization leaders.
